Course Description

Marketing is an exciting and dynamic field, with evolving and everlasting techniques to help combat challenges of our current and future enterprises. In this course you will get a first look at the marketing function from the managerial perspective. Major topics include 1) marketing environment (assessing/understanding/targeting the marketplace), 2) value creation, 3) value communication, 4) consumer behavior, 5) marketing mix, 6) global marketing, 7) technology and 8) marketing research. Marketers must have the ability to analyze situations, think critically about solutions to customers' problems, and creatively provide the necessary customer value.

The overall goal is to develop an understanding of marketing theories, marketing definitions and marketing concepts, as they logically contribute to the success of an organization in a competitive business environment.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon satisfactory completion of this course, students will be able to demonstrate an understanding and application of the following skills:

1. Define the role of marketing in organizations with precision.
2. Understand the importance of strategic marketing and the basic outline for a marketing plan.
3. Discuss the significance of ethical issues on marketing decision-making and the resulting implications.
4. Explain why marketers must consider relevant macroenvironment factors and consumer information to make precise decisions.
5. Accurately articulate the model of the consumer buying process.
6. Understand marketing issues in foreign markets and describe with clarity and accuracy the various market entry strategies.
7. Understand the fundamental concepts of marketing, including marketing research, market segmentation, targeting, and positioning, and how they make a significant impact on customer value.
8. Precisely draw inferences and make conclusions of the product, price, place, and promotion strategies of organizations.

9. Understand the significance of the implications and consequences of the product, price, place, and promotion strategies of organizations.
10. Understand the importance of the personal selling process and the value added by personal selling as well as the key functions involved in managing a sales force.

Critical Thinking: Central Question

Every course in a field of study has a central question that it revolves around. It allows a way to understand every item in the course. The goal is to use the central question in your thinking as you encounter all content in the readings, videos, and assignments. The central question for this course is, "How do marketers offer value to customers?"

Critical Thinking: Fundamental and Powerful Concepts

The fundamental concepts are ones that can be used to think about and reason through a large number of questions, problems, and information. Fundamental concepts need to be learned in a deep way. A thorough understanding of the fundamental concepts of this course will help you address, in a meaningful way, the central question. The fundamental concepts of this course include customer value, marketing strategy, consumer behavior, and the marketing mix.

Textbook (Required)

Marketing, 8th, Ed., by Grewal and Levy (McGraw-Hill Education) Any buying option is ok.

Link to publisher's website.

Course Format

The course involves weekly reading assignments and one homework assignments. You will find that the textbook is very comprehensive and will require a time commitment for you to complete a thorough reading of the chapters. It will be challenging to catch up if you fall several chapters behind. This course is 3-credit hours, which means that you should expect to spend 8 - 12 hours each week on activities and assignments related to this class.

Students are expected to study the assigned readings in advance and be prepared to join in any class discussions online. There will be quizzes and exams, all of which will consist of multiple-choice questions. NO make-up exams or quizzes will be given.

Course Evaluation

Your grade is determined objectively from the accumulation of points acquired from the following assignments. Note: a grade of "I" (Incomplete) will be awarded only in emergencies where the student is unable to complete part of the course work due to uncontrollable circumstances, and provided that the student has a passing grade in the course. This decision is at the instructor's discretion. Students who stop participating and do not drop the class will be given a grade of "F" for the course.

Exam #1 is worth	100 grade points	The Following is the grade point distribution:
Exam #2 is worth	100 grade points	A = 342 – 380 grade points
Exam #3 is worth	100 grade points	B = 304 – 341 grade points
Quizzes are worth	40 grade points	C = 303 – 266 grade points

Homework Assignments

Homework Assignment #1 Due: July 18, 2022

Utilizing Microsoft PowerPoint, create a marketing plan and strategy to grow a business. Create a new company or utilize an existing company. This should be a fun project, please reference chapter three in the textbook as well as other resources you might find. This power point should be about 10 slides. It should include: 1.) Your name and brief introduction of your company 2.) What product(s)/service(s) you sell 3.) SWOT Analysis (briefly highlight strength, weakness, opportunities, and threats) 4.) Create 1 – 2 SMART Business Goals (trackable goals are essential) 5.) Market Segmentation (define your target audience and customer) 6.) Now, create a few additional slides utilizing what we have learned thus far, what technique(s) will you use/implement to gain new customers as well as keeping your current customers engaged in your company, be creative, have fun with this, consider the 4E framework of digital marketing, the digital marketing campaign, drivers of social media engagement and/or any other technique/ methodology mentioned in this textbook.

Study Tips

- Thoroughly read the chapters and watch the videos for extra help with each chapter.
- Use the PowerPoint slides to identify important areas (you will still NEED to READ the chapters for complete information). The PowerPoint slides are NOT enough to do well in the course.
- Contact your classmates and ask about their study techniques and possibly form virtual study groups
- Contact: Student Success Center for available resources (Tutoring, Supplemental Instruction, Academic Coaching, & Workshops)
    - Succeeding in Online Courses: Tips for succeeding in online courses: what to check on the syllabus and Blackboard, how to manage time and keep track of online assignments, when and how to do discussion board posts. This workshop incorporates how-to videos.
    - Time and Task Management: Time management, balancing face-to-face or online classes and projects with work and family responsibilities, prioritizing tasks, downsizing if necessary.
- Contact: Office of Counseling Services
- Go to Academic Support for other resources

Optional Assignment

For those students who want to increase their marketability, the HubSpot Academy offers an inbound certification course. The course is a free marketing training course that covers the fundamentals of the inbound marketing methodology. Inbound is a method of attracting, engaging, and delighting people to grow a business that provides value and builds trust.

As technology shifts, inbound guides a company to do business in a human and helpful way. The inbound approach to doing business is more human and customer centered. Learn about why this shift has happened, how buying behaviors are evolving, and the fundamentals of an inbound business. The training course is found at HubSpot Academy.

Note: Those students who successfully attain the certification will receive 20 extra credit points. You must upload the certification (PDF) using the link under the "Optional: Inbound Certification" by Thursday, July 28, 2022 11:59 pm. There will be no exceptions. To log in: Use "student" as your job title and work location as "University of Houston – Clear Lake".

Assessment

The University of Houston-Clear Lake may use educational assessment tools in this course. "Educational Assessment" is defined as the systematic collection, interpretation, and use of information about student demographics, educational environments, learning outcomes, and professional success. These assessment tools will not affect student grades, but will provide faculty with confidential detailed information that will be used to improve student learning, courses, curriculum, and program accreditation.

6 Drop Rule

6 Drop Rule Limitation – Students who entered college for the first time in Fall 2007 or later should be aware of the course drop limitation imposed by the Texas Legislature. Dropping this or any other course between the first day of class and the census date for the semester/session does not affect your 6-drop rule count. Dropping a course between the census date and the last day to drop a class for the semester/session will count as one of your 6 permitted drops. You should consider this before dropping this or any other course. Visit the Office of the Registrar for more information on the 6-drop rule and the census date information for the semester/session.

Academic Honesty

The Academic Honesty Policy at UHCL (found at Dean of Students website, the Faculty Handbook, the Student Handbook, the Senior Vice President and Provost's website, the Graduate Catalog, and the Undergraduate Catalog) states: Academic honesty is the cornerstone of the academic integrity of the University. It is the foundation upon which the student builds personal integrity and establishes a standard of personal behavior.

Because honesty and integrity are such important factors in the professional community, you should be aware that failure to perform within the bounds of these ethical standards is sufficient grounds to receive a grade of "F" in this course and be recommended for suspension from UHCL. The Honesty Code of UHCL states, "I will be honest in all my academic activities and will not tolerate dishonesty."

Exam Proctoring

Exams will be proctored online using ProctorU. ProctorU is a live online proctoring service that allows you to take your exam from the comfort of your home. ProctorU is available 24/7; however, I strongly recommend that you schedule ALL your exams as soon as possible, so you get a time that works well for your schedule and fits within the exam window. You can change your appointment time, if necessary. Creating a ProctorU account is simple. You can do so by clicking here.

In order to use ProctorU, you will need a high-speed internet connection, a webcam (internal or external), a windows or apple Operating System, and a government issued photo id. ProctorU recommends that you visit https://test-it-out.proctoru.com/ prior to your proctoring session to test your equipment. We recommend you click on the button that says "connect to a live person" to fully test out your equipment. Please make sure that you are using the current version of your browser and have downloaded the ProctorU extension available at https://chrome.google.com/webstore/detail/proctoru/goobgennebinldhonaajgafidboenlkl or https://www.proctoru.com/firefox.

Additionally, please visit and review the test-taker resource center here. You should expect the startup process with the proctor to take about 10-15 minutes. However, this time will not affect your exam time. Please feel free to direct any questions to the student support team via the live chat within your account.

Disability Services

The University of Houston System complies with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, pertaining to the provision of reasonable academic adjustments/auxiliary aids for students with a disability. In accordance with Section 504 and ADA guidelines, each University within the System strives to provide reasonable academic adjustments/auxiliary aids to students who request and require them. If you believe that you have a disability requiring an academic adjustment/auxiliary aid, please contact Disability Services at 281-283-2648, disability@uhcl.edu, and http://www.uhcl.edu/disability.

Student Life Policies

Important Testing Information

Please include in your planning the issue of any PROBLEMS (i.e., technical, personal, professional, etc.) when preparing to take quizzes and exams. I WILL NOT be able to reopen quizzes and exams after the testing period is over.
So... Understand that there may be PROBLEMS with life, Blackboard, or your computer and PLAN accordingly. Best advice, plan to take the quizzes and exams EARLY to avoid any issues.

Recording of Class

Students may not record all or part of class, livestream all or part of class, or make/distribute screen captures, without advanced written consent of the instructor. If you have or think you may have a disability such that you need to record class-related activities, please contact the Accessibility Support Center. If you have an accommodation to record class-related activities, those recordings may not be shared with any other student, whether in this course or not, or with any other person or on any other platform. Classes may be recorded by the instructor. Students may use instructor's recordings for their own studying and notetaking. Instructor's recordings are not authorized to be shared with anyone without the prior written approval of the instructor. Failure to comply with requirements regarding recordings will result in a disciplinary referral to the Dean of Students Office and may result in disciplinary action.

Syllabus Changes

Due to the changing nature of the COVID-19 pandemic, please note that I may need to make modifications to the course syllabus and may do so at any time. Notice of such changes will be announced as quickly as possible through announcements on blackboard.
